Did You Know?

Lakeview's North Lincoln Avenue is home to National Runaway Switchboard, an organization dedicated to keeping America's runaway and at-risk youth safe and off the streets.

Founded in 1971 as Metro Help, the organization received a federal grant in 1974 and became the national crisis hotline that it is today. Since that time, National Runaway Switchboard's capabilities and services have grown exponentially. The 1-800-RUNAWAY hotline now handles more than 100,000 calls annually.

To learn more about NRS, to donate or to get involved, visit their website: www.1800runaway.org.

This kiosk has been fully funded by Lakeview SSA #27.
